

Web guidelines

You have space on your webpage to show up to 3 images. These images do not have to be the same ones you will exhibit. You will need to submit good quality digital images by email, on a disc or, if you cannot do this, we can accept good quality print photographs to prepare for digital use here. The fee for the extra work involved is £5. An SAE must be included if you need your photographs returned.

Notes on photographing your work

Photographs of your work should be well focused, colour images. Please use daylight, not electric light, and do not use flash. This gives best colour reproduction and avoids flare. Ensure that your work is positioned with light falling reasonably evenly over its surface – light falling from slightly above will catch texture in the most natural-looking way. If possible, remove glass to avoid reflection. Ensure that the camera is angled straight on so lessening the effect of perspective. Use a tripod if you have one or consider resting the camera on something stable.

Resolution

Images should be no less than 72dpi. Most digital cameras now will produce pictures of a suitable resolution so make sure your camera is set to its highest setting and, on your computer, save the images to high quality and all should be well. Having said that, e-mailed images should be no bigger than 5MB each please. For larger sizes please use www.yousendit.com.

Format

Images should be sent as .jpg files
