WHAT WE DO

The Lloyd's Art Group is a collective of fine artists who work in Lloyd's of London or the London insurance market or are immediately related to someone who does.

Founded in 1963, we have held an autumn exhibition and sale of fine art in the Lloyd's building ever since and we hold smaller events throughout the year.

We donate a percentage of our sales to the Artful Pelican (a gallery which provides a work-shop, materials and opportunities for talented yet homeless or vulnerable artists) and Street Souls (providing hot food, sleeping bags and advice to the homeless). Both are run by the Coombe Trust, the Lloyd's-recognised charity founded by Lloyd's broker, Don Coombe OBE.

We are non-profit-making and run entirely by volunteers. Costs are covered by a generous sponsorship from Aon, income from adverts placed in our exhibition catalogue and artists subscriptions.

The Friendship scheme is intended to raise a little more money to allow us to carry on improving the exhibition, to promote it more widely and to build the goodwill and friendship base that surrounds our group.
